Ryan's Ramblings

Dear parents, grandparents and friends,

What an amazing week! The only aspect that I could complain about would be the weather.

On Tuesday of this week, we had a number of students represent our school at the District Athletics Carnival. Thank you very much to Hannah, who helped coordinate our students for the day. We have two students who will now move to the Greater Western Regional Athletics Carnival in October. Congratulations to Eve, who will compete in discus, and to Mikalah, who will compete in the 80m hurdles event.

Our 2023 School Production, The Vinyl Countdown was the highlight of the week. A sold out crowd packed Ballarat's Civic Hall to toe tap, sing and enjoy a number of special performances by our students. Our main cast were exceptional, with many hours spent over the past few weeks and months memorising lines and dance moves. I would like to publicly thank our Production Team, led by Miss Ally and Stella. Many of you may not be aware, that the script was written by Miss Ally herself and she paid careful attention to ensuring that the characters were written to suit the students involved. Stella spent countless hours creating costumes and props. Most weekends and evenings I would find her here at school busily painting, drawing and creating.

I am sure that you will all share the feeling of immense pride that was felt last night at our production. Thank you to the over 600 members of our school community who purchased tickets to come along and support our children. It was one of this year's memorable moments.

Next week we have another very exciting day for our students in the form of Japanese Day! Whilst the production has taken the front seat of our minds lately, there has been a lot of work happening in the background, led by Sensei Tyler. I am looking forward to a wonderful day of cultural and linguistic enrichment and celebration on Tuesday of next week.

It is hard to fathom that next week is the last week of Term 3. Please be reminded that we have an early dismissal (2:30pm) next week.

Have a fantastic weekend.

Ryan

Students Of The Week Awards

FB

Alice

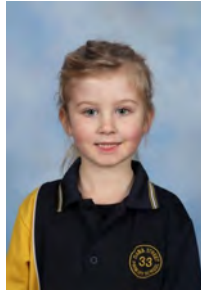

For the positive way you have approached all learning experiences this week. Alice, we loved watching you shine at the school concert, your smile lit up the stage. Amazing effort!

F/1S

Evie

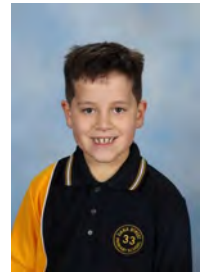

For your outstanding progress with your reading fluency. Evie, you have approached your reading goal with enthusiasm and a positive growth mindset. Your impressive progress is a credit to your hard work. You are a star! Keep up the great work, Evie.

1/2B

Sam

For the enthusiasm you have displayed this term for concert. Your passion is infectious and it was a pleasure to see you shine on stage in three songs! You also showed respect while watching others perform and encouraged everyone to have their best go. I loved seeing you enjoy singing and dancing, and I'm sure we will see much more from you Sam!

1/2D

Whole Class

For the amazing effort and enthusiasm you have shown throughout our concert preparation. You have worked so hard to learn the words and dances to ensure our performance was the best it could be. You should all be very proud of yourselves, just as we are very proud of you. Well done, 1/2D!

1/2K

Glyn

For being a brilliant role model during the concert, Glyn, you showed real leadership qualities. You helped organise, listen to instructions well and encouraged others. I am so very impressed. What a Superstar!

3/4B

Isla

For the fantastic effort and enthusiasm that you have brought to our concert rehearsals. You set a wonderful example and always encourage the best from your peers. This takes self-discipline and understanding. Thankyou for being the role model that we can always rely on. Well done, legend!

3/4C

Jack

For showing great manners and showing respect. Great job on locking-in and having a red-hot-go across all of your learning. It's been great to see your enthusiasm whilst researching and creating the silhouette for your chosen iconic Australian. You've modelled flexibility and teamwork by supporting and including others into your inquiry project. Keep up the great work, Jack.

3/4N

Copeland

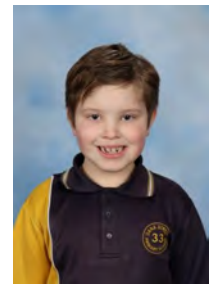

For your dedicated effort in improving your fast fact skills during our Maths worm-ups and giving a 'RED HOT GO' at all activities. Your positive attitude and commitment to enhancing your reading fluency have been remarkable. You are fully engaged in your learning and consistently make excellent contributions to all our class discussions. Congratulation Copeland! Keep up the fantastic effort!

3/4T

Aiden

For being such a wonderful greeter at our school concert. You were polite, courteous and made all our Dana Street Families and extended community feel so welcomed.

5/6A

The superstars in 5/6A

For the incredible effort you put in at the school concert. 5/6A, you were sensational in all your songs and were absolute superstars! What a performance! I am so proud of you all!

5/6J

Art

For showing wonderful resilience at our school concert last night. I am so proud of the way you conducted yourself and loved to see you have a smile on your face. Well done!

5/6P

Ava

For the superb effort you have put into our school concert. Ava, you were exceptional in all of your dances, songs and in particular, playing the role of Garfunkel. A brilliant job legend!

Literacy For The Holiday

Spring is in the air! It has been wonderful to see students across Dana Street learning more deeply about phonics and morphology this term. Writing cycles have explored a range of genres and the students have continued to WOW us with their published pieces. The effort that students applied to memorising song lyrics, looking at rhyming words and breaking up words into syllables has been fantastic. As you ready yourselves for the holiday season and a well deserved rest, you might be wondering what you can do over the break with regards to literacy?

Here are some ideas that might be useful:

- A book report about your favourite holiday text
- A movie review
- Comic strips
- Diary entries
- A procedure that you completed
- <https://thekidshouldseethis.com/> is an award-winning website with a collection of over 6,000 child-friendly videos. Lots of discussion can come out of these videos and possibly a report?
- Look at favourite songs at home to find rhyming words, count syllables, find affixes... you could even try and write your own songs!

Maths over the holidays

With holidays just around the corner, here are some fun mathematical activities to complete at home to link classroom learning to real life scenarios:

- Adding totals and calculating change at the shops
 - Pay with cash and discuss Australian currency
 - Tell the time on analogue and digital clocks
 - Create a timetable or schedule for your daily activities
- You can also play some Mathematical games as a family.

24

What you need to play:

- Ace – 10 playing cards

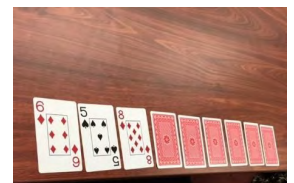

How to play:

1. The players use cards Ace – 10.
2. Deal out all cards, an equal number to each player.
3. The first player turns over a card and places it face up in the centre of the play area. The next player turns over another card and adds it to the card already there.
4. Play continues in this way until someone adds a card that makes 24 or more.
5. If the sum is exactly 24 that player wins.
6. If the sum is over 24 the value of the card is taken away from the previous total.
7. Play continues until someone gets exactly 24.

Speeding

What you need to play:

You will need a card with each of the following values: 1,2,3,4,5,6,7,8,9,10 You can use these from a deck of cards or create cards using paper

How to play:

1. Place each card face down on the table in a row
2. As each card from 1-10 is on the table, the total of the cards is 55
3. Flip one card over at a time to calculate the running total
4. When the last card is turned over the total MUST be 55. If you don't get to 55 you will need to go back and check your calculations
5. To replay shuffle the order of cards and reset them face down

Challenge: Use a timer and time yourself. Try and get better each time

Variation: Work your way back from 55 to 0 using subtraction

Further Challenge: Multiply the numbers
